

Pay It Fur-Ward
Helping humans & their furry friends

PAY IT FUR-WARD / ADOPTION DOSSIER

Meet Fatty

A resilient, affectionate girl ready for her next chapter.

AGE

About 4 years

SEX

Female

BREED

Domestic longhair

CURRENT WEIGHT

Over 11 lb

Her story

Fatty came into Pay It Fur-Ward's emergency medical foster care in July 2026 weighing just 6.06 pounds. She was weak and severely dehydrated, with painful matting and sores beneath her coat. Early testing also raised serious concerns, including severe anemia, a high white blood cell count and liver trouble. Her recovery has taken patience, hands-on care and veterinary follow-up.

Fatty is now over 11 pounds (last exact weight: 11 lb 2.3 oz on September 24). Her latest bloodwork looks beautiful, she is off the renal diet, and her fur is growing back everywhere - though she has earned a few gray hairs along the way.

The cat you'll meet

Fatty has shown an affectionate, tolerant side throughout her care. As she has grown stronger, she has begun to tolerate other animals a little more. Introductions to resident pets should still be gradual and supervised; her compatibility with any particular animal has not been established.

She deserves a home that will give her time to settle in, gentle attention and routine veterinary care. Her adopter will get to know the full story behind a remarkable comeback.

Adoption at a glance

Adoption fee: $125 (adult cat schedule).

Apply: <https://furwardcare.us/>

Questions: www.payitfur-ward.org

Records to confirm before placement: spay status, vaccinations, current medications, and any follow-up recommended by her veterinarian. Fatty has been reported as not having a Fi Nano microchip; confirm her identification plan with the rescue.

Care & progress

A summary of updates shared by Pay It Fur-Ward. The treating veterinarian’s records should accompany the adoption.

Medical and care history

- At intake on July 24, 2026, Fatty weighed 6.06 lb. She was severely dehydrated, matted and weak. She received fluids and began eating and brightening after initial care.
- Grooming exposed irritated skin and sores. Care included skin support, fluids, antibiotics and nutritional support. FIV testing was reported negative.
- Initial bloodwork showed marked anemia and an elevated white blood cell count; kidney values were discussed while she was receiving fluids. Liver failure was also reported in a later adoption update. These are historical findings, not a description of current disease.
- A recheck and blood draw took place at The Pet Cross on August 26. The following update described marked improvement. Her latest bloodwork looks beautiful, and she is now off the renal diet.

Weight milestones

Jul 24	6 lb 0.96 oz (6.06 lb)	Aug 7	7 lb 1.3 oz
Aug 12	7 lb 6.8 oz	Aug 15	7 lb 15.4 oz
Aug 19	8 lb 3.5 oz	Aug 26	8 lb 13 oz
Sep 24	11 lb 2.3 oz

For her new family

Fatty is over 11 pounds; her last exact recorded weight was 11 lb 2.3 oz on September 24, 2026. Her fur is growing back everywhere, with a few well-earned gray hairs. Pay It Fur-Ward reports that she is thriving. Ask for the latest veterinary records and any individualized care instructions before adoption.

Fatty’s progress is something to celebrate. Her history also makes a calm transition, attentive observation and an ongoing relationship with a veterinarian especially valuable.